Standard Chartered & Qatar Airways ink special deal for Bank's Priority Clients

Standard Chartered Bank Nepal and Qatar Airways have concluded an agreement for a business tie up for Standard Chartered's Priority Clients. Under the agreement, Bank's Priority Clients will get a 7% discount from Qatar Airways while flying in Economy Class and a 10% discount while flying in Business Class; this forms an exclusive savings on tickets from Kathmandu to over 151 diversified destinations throughout the world with Qatar's ever-growing global network.

In this process, Qatar Airways and the Bank will be launching a special CUG (closed user-group page) which can be accessed online or from the airlines city office by the Bank's Priority Banking Card holders.

In addition, Standard Chartered Priority Clients and their companions will be allowed to check-in at the local airport through the Business Class counter irrespective of whether or not the passenger holds a Business Class ticket.

Standard Chartered has been running Priority Banking business and clients belonging to this segment are entitled for various offers, privileges and discounts.

Mr. Ammar Husain, Executive Director - Client Relationships – Standard Chartered Bank Nepal said: “Standard Chartered is delighted to announce this partnership with Qatar Airways. This partnership helps create synergy between the two well known global brands; it is a great combination. More importantly, this partnership benefits our Priority Clients. Being an international bank, we believe in adding value in every client relationship that we nurture.”
